STAT

The statement of intent in Reference A not to distinguish between married and single employees in the granting of Interim Overseas Differential (IOD) benefits is based upon the Director of Personnel's functions as stated in reference B; i.e., "Establish special monetary allowances and differentials for overseas personnel as required." As it was not the intent from the beginning of the program to distinguish between married and single employees, the time period of 42 days for continuing the IOD while on TDY in the United States should be applied retroactively for single employees.
